Historical Inventory of Lender-Mediated Properties

April 2013

April inventory declines and price gains should bring increased May activity levels. Just in the past year, lender-mediated inventory levels are down over 55.5 percent. As a result, motivated buyers are turning to non-distressed, traditional properties. Lender-Mediated homes represent 38.3 percent of the total closed sales, compared to 42.2 percent this month last year. And traditional closed sales are up nearly 35.0 percent from April 2012. Traditional sellers are taking the hint, listing almost 31.0 percent more new properties than last year.

Only 31.7 percent of all new listings were lender-mediated, down notably from last year. April marks the seventh consecutive month of year-over-year sales gains and the fifth month in a row of year-over-year median sales price gains. Though this isn't quite impressive enough to write home about, it would seem that this recovery has begun to gain real traction. As always, market activity can vary greatly by area, price point and segment. Be sure to read the next few pages with peaked interest.

Explanation of Methodology

REOs are those noted in the "Property Owner" field as "REO", "HUD Owned" and "VA Owned".
